

89. THINNESS: TO GELLIUS

ellius [p. 212] is thin: why wouldn't he be? Whose mother enjoys life, so kind and so healthy, and a sister so charming, and so kind an uncle, and everywhere filled so with girls who're related, why should he leave off being lean?
Though he touched nothing, but what it's illegal to touch, you'd find any number of reasons why he'd be lean.
